

“How do I start the month Fast and Focused?”

Answer: LIVE Video Conferences with Dave Anderson!

The Challenge: “I’m tired of the same, lame way we begin the month.” How can we start the month fast and focused? I need early momentum...not just on the last five days of the month.

Answer: Live Video Conferences with Dave Anderson! Each Live Video Conference is a twenty-five minute televised meeting held live by Dave during select months throughout the year. The purpose of the Live Video Conference is to motivate, energize, challenge and focus your team on getting off to a fast start for the month—and keeping the momentum all through the month!

How does it work?

You’ll be given instructions and a password to log onto our site on your computer and watch live as Dave addresses your entire team during the Live Video Conference meeting. After his hard-hitting meeting material, Dave will open up the lines for live questions and personally help and advise those in attendance. All you need is a computer, internet connection, and speaker phone!

What is covered?

There are new themes and marching orders for each video conference: strategies for creating activity early in the month, how to increase accountability, ideas for maximizing the fewer customers you may be seeing, tips for creating urgency, tactics for handling the relevant issues facing you and motivational words to raise morale and create momentum for your team! Dave will also focus on the positive aspects of business and the economy that you don’t hear on the news!

Who should attend the meeting?

All sales and management personnel!

What if I can't tune in live?

All meetings are recorded and you can view or download them at your convenience! You will be able to build a library of meeting programs to review, share with new hires and bring up to speed those who missed the meeting!

Is participation limited to a certain number of subscribers?

Yes. Registrations are limited to twenty companies per meeting, so that Dave can give the needed attention to questions following each Live Video Conference broadcast. Don't delay. First come, first served!

How do I register?

Review upcoming dates and topics by clicking HERE. Then call 800-519-8224 or 818-735-9503 (Int'l.) to register!

How much does it cost?

Our introductory offer is only $149 per video conference!

What if my team wants more time to ask Dave questions and get personal coaching?

You may schedule meetings or have an exclusive kick-off meeting just for your team using the same live, televised format! Dave can customize the topics you most want to discuss as a team. Call for the price structures for an exclusive presentation.
