

Would you like to bring greater speed and accuracy to your hiring process?

The Anderson Eagle Profile has been used by hundreds of organizations to quickly filter out candidates who look good and speak well, but are entirely unsuitable. This assessment measures 24 unique personality traits and instantly determines an individual's suitability for the job.

In addition, The Anderson Eagle Profile is remarkably useful for discerning the personality strengths and vulnerabilities in your management team.

TRAITS ANALYSIS

SUPERVISOR

If Objectivity is from 28-30, the results are considered objective and unbiased. However, if Objectivity is from 23-27, some of this participant's actual trait scores might be 1-2 points different than the trait scores displayed above.

Traits with scores from 1-3 and 8-10 are considered influential. The behaviors predicted by these traits will likely be defining aspects of this participant's personality.
